

Court Refuses to Hear Case of Publisher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alex H. Washburn, publisher of the Hope, Ark., Star, has failed in his bid to get his tax case before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The court Monday refused to review a decision that Washburn could not deduct in his federal income tax return amounts spent in obtaining signatures on a petition to refer a legislative act to popular vote.

Washburn sought to deduct $6,024 for 1955, when he opposed a legislative act to exempt livestock and poultry feeds from a 2 percent sales tax.

The U.S. tax court and the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in St. Louis ruled against him. The Supreme Court did not comment in refusing to hear the case.

The lower courts held the money was not spent as ordinary business expenses.

Communists Out After Entire World

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev told the Soviet people today that they can rest content only when the whole world goes Communist.

"We are happy when we build communism (here) but that is not enough," he said. "We shall be happy when the people of all countries stand under the banner of Marxism-Leninism and the Communist banner will fly over the whole planet."

Khrushchev spoke on a nationwide radio hook up from Alma, Ata, capital of the virgin land republic of Kazakhstan. This was the second speech of his, current top of agricultural areas to be broadcast live.

His declaration about the ultimate victory of communism got a storm of applause from the leading farmers and party functionaries gathered to hear him.

"Opponents of communism will say that Khrushchev expresses pretentious claims for the rule of communism," the premier said. "It is not a claim but a deep conviction based on a profound theory of the development of human society. It does not depend on me or any one persons."

Much of his speech was keyed to the need for industrial and agricultural advances in the Soviet Union so it can overtake the United States. He predicted this would happen soon.

Referring to international affairs, Khrushchev repeated his standard offer to accept "any controls" for disarmament if the West will accept his proposals for general and complete disarmament.

The West dismisses this offer from Khrushchev as meaningless because it is never backed up by any agreement to specific control measures.

Says Water Will Have to Be Reused

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — By 1980, each gallon of water will have to be used six times to meet the needs of this country's population.

That prediction came Monday from Harry E. Schlenz of Chicago, vice president of the Water Pollution Control Federation and president of the Pacific Flush Tank Co.

He told the Arkansas Water and Sewage Conference that in 20 years "We will be forced to treat all our waste, both municipal and industrial. We will be faced with the six-time reuse of our water."

That would mean repurifying the water six times.

The only alternative, he said, would be finding ways to transport water from areas of abundance to areas of shortage, such as cities. And cost and other problems make reuse the most economic solution, he said.

G. T. Kellogg of Little Rock, chairman of the southwest section of the American Water Works Association, said that even though Arkansas is losing population, it won't escape water shortages. He said cities will have to expand water and sewage treatment operations. The state now is spending nearly $16 million a year in improvements, he said, double the 1950 rate.

Farm Bureau Head Declines Comment

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — Harold Ohlendorf, president of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, declined comment today on whether he will accept an invitation to head a campaign for approval of a proposed $60 million state construction bond issue.

Ohlendorf said he hadn't had an opportunity to learn just what part a group of proponents want him to play.

The group met with Gov. Orval E. Faubus at Little Rock last Thursday night. Ohlendorf was suggested as chairman of a steering committee.

A spokesman for the group said at Little Rock he was to get a reply from Ohlendorf by next weekend.

Faubus still must set a date for a special election on the bond proposal, which the Arkansas Education Association is opposing.

Stop Lights on 3rd to Be Synchronized

The Board of Directors, at a meeting Monday, authorized the city manager to proceed with the installation of standard traffic controls on the five traffic lights along East Third St.

The new controls are to be of a design which will permit standard operation of all traffic movements including right and left turn movements and synchronized operation to provide the greatest traffic movement. Controls will provide flashing operation of the signals during the late hours.

The plan adopted leaves all the existing signals in operation. A traffic engineer with the State Highway Department recommended that some of the signals be removed, but the Board of Directors feel that the traffic could be moved with greater safety with the continued operation of all signals. The proposed control system will, however, be adaptable to any future plans.

The Board also discussed the State Retirement Plan which the recent legislature made available to municipal employees. The 1959 Legislature made it mandatory that county employees come under the plan, but the action by the Legislature of 1961 providing for city employees made the plan permissive, and cities have the option of choosing or rejecting the plan. The Board asked for further investigation to determine what benefits may be derived by adopting the plan and figures on the total cost.

The need for some regulation of emergency vehicles was discussed and City Attorney James Pilkinton was requested to secure some information on plans for controlling emergency vehicles which have been successful in other cities.

In further action, the Board authorized securing bids on re-roofing the office and shop sections of the airport hangar.

U. S. Spends Thousands to Collect 50c

CHICAGO (AP) — The federal government won a four-bit conviction Monday that cost an estimated $750 to $2,000 to prosecute.

The defendant drew a sentence of one hour and government attorneys drew a reprimand.

The case involved William Wallace, 34, an unemployed laborer, who was arrested Feb. 28 after he tried to put two phony quarters into a juke box.

The defendant said in his five-hour trial in U.S. District Court that the day of his arrest he had cashed a $90 relief check, made a round of taverns and probably picked up the quarters without realizing they were bogus.

The jury found him guilty of possessing 50 cents in counterfeit money.

Judge Michael L. Igou said "I personally don't understand why such a case was presented to the grand jury," then sentenced Wallace to "one hour in the custody of the U.S. marshal."

Court observers estimated the cost of prosecuting Wallace — including his indictment, incarceration and trial — ranged between $750 and $2,000.

Wins Point and Resigns Job

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — Judith Elwell, who won the right to wear low-heel shoes to work despite a dress-up edict from her employer, has resigned from her city job.

She said she was quitting, effective April 21, because she is expecting a baby.

A typist in the Norwich Public Utilities Department, Mrs. Elwell recently was suspended for defying an order by the general manager, Philip L. White, banning low-heel shoes and other casual dress.

Mrs. Elwell, a heavy woman, appealed to the City Personnel Board, which ruled she could work in low heels if she furnished a doctor's certificate saying her health required such shoes.

The board also ruled that White had the right to issue dress requirements for office workers.

Amendments Advance for the Ballot

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four proposed constitutional amendments passed by the 1961 legislature have completed their journey to the secretary of state's office, and one of them will go into the wastebasket when the 1962 general election ballot is made up.

The one that probably is doomed is an amendment to authorize use of voting machines. It was the last to be passed by the Senate, and Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon told senators the first three proposed amendments they passed would be the ones to make the ballot.

The senators said their vote for the voting machine bill "was a vote of confidence to the women who sponsored it"—the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

But since the legislature adjourned, the possibility has been brought up that legally the last three amendments approved would make the ballot instead of the first three. No evidence has been produced that the legislature ever passed more than three measure before.

Only three can legally go onto the ballot, and Gov. Orval E. Faubus has not veto power over them.

The other amendments would remove ceilings on municipal taxing power, double permissive maximum salaries of state and county officers, and provide that no child shall be denied a free public education because he refuses to attend an integrated school.

The only way the backers of the voting machine amendment could get it on the ballot would be to bring suit and prove that the last three—instead of the first three—amendments passed should make the grade.

The Senate was the last house to vote on the bills, and that is why its action is important.

Holdup Suspect Shot by Police

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Johnny Harrison, 44, was shot and wounded Monday night by police officers who sought to question him about a $35 holdup.

Police said Harrison was clutching $35 in his hand when they reached him after he was felled by a shotgun blast in the back. He was reported in satisfactory condition in a veterans hospital.

Officers found the man in a parking lot near a liquor store which had been robbed. A policeman fired when the man ran as officers called to him.

U.S. Decides Not to Let Russian-Backed Reds Take Over Laos

Adlai Blames Russia for Congo Trouble

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson today accused the Soviet Union of obstructing U. N. efforts in the Congo and of injecting into the U. N. Congo debate "the most destructive spirit of the cold war."

"The Soviet Union does not want the United Nations to succeed in the Congo," Stevenson told the U. N. General Assembly.

Stevenson spoke after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had denounced U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold "as an accomplice and organizer" of the slaying of deposed Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Gromyko demanded the dismissal of the secretary-general, withdrawal of the U. N. forces from the Congo within a month and a thorough overhauling of the whole U. N. structure.

Stevenson called Gromyko's attack on Hammarskjold "wild, irresponsible, and absurd."

"We haven't even been spared the charge of an accomplice of murder," he said.

Stevenson declared that if the United Nations acceded to the Soviet demand it would mean substitution of anarchy for constructive international effort.

He referred to the great and expensive effort of the United Nations in the Congo.

Gromyko warned that the United Nations may suffer the same fate as the League of Nations if it continues on the present course.

Due to the Congo crisis, he said the world faced a situation similar to that on the eve of World War II.

Gromyko's demand for dismissal of Hammarskjold was one of five major points he advanced as the 99-nation assembly began its new round of Congo debate. He urged U. N. assistance to the Stanleyville regime of pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga through a commission of African nations.

JFK Reportedly Ready to Act As Cause Arise

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has decided that the United States will not stand idly by and let Soviet-backed Communists take over Laos. The President is reported to take an increasingly urgent view of the Laos crisis.

Exactly what actions the United States should now set in motion to deal with Red pressures remains to be determined. This was understood to be the major concern of a meeting which the President called at the White House this afternoon.

The session was the second within two days bringing together the President's top military and diplomatic advisers for a review of the problem of Laos. The situation has grown more ominous because a Soviet-American conference last Saturday produced no hope of an agreed diplomatic solution for Laos.

The United States is understood to have advised its chief allies, Britain and France, last week that it intended to meet Soviet pressures on Laos with counter pressures, but at that time the main hope here was for a diplomatic solution of the crisis.

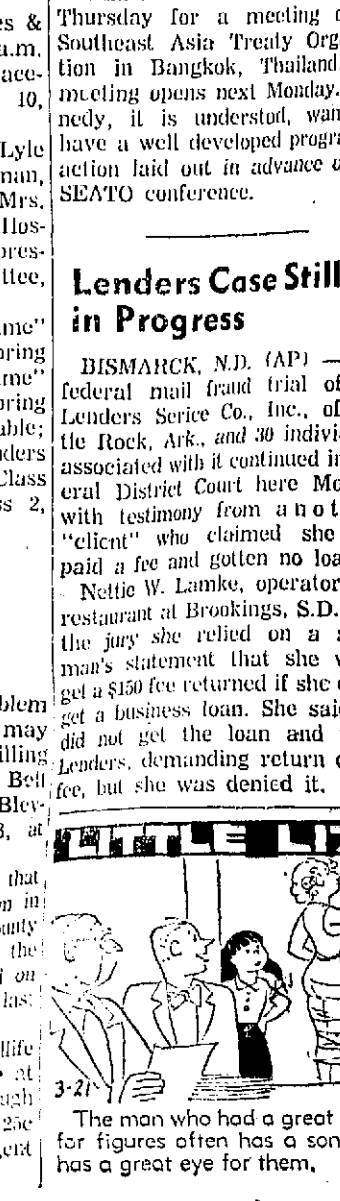

On Saturday Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko conferred at the State Department five hours. They spent more time on Laos than on any other subject. Gromyko stood firm on the Soviet position that the way to break the crisis is to hold an international conference. Rusk, who considers such a conference a stalling device, unsuccessfully sought Soviet cooperation in immediate measures to end the civil war and unify the country under a policy of guaranteed neutrality.

The failure of the diplomatic maneuver which underlay the Rusk-Gromyko session appeared to mark a turning point in the situation.

The range of actions available to the administration is wide. At a minimum Kennedy can order a step-up of considerable volume in the delivery of supplies, weapons and ammunition to the pro-Western Lao government. He can increase U.S. personnel training the government forces. Theoretically the United States could encourage volunteers from other countries to go in to help the royal Lao government. At the maximum the United States could put in its own forces, though there apparently has been little if any talk of such a move within the government.

Rusk is scheduled to leave here Thursday for a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Bangkok, Thailand. The meeting opens next Monday. Kennedy, it is understood, wants to have a well developed program of action laid out in advance of the SEATO conference.

The man who had a great head for figures often has a son who has a great eye for them.

Russia Opens Debate by Attack

BY WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —
Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was expected to open a new debate on the Congo today in the U.N. General Assembly with charges that Belgium, Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld and Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu are conspiring to dismember
the chaotic central African territory.

Gromyko's newest target was the decision by Kasavubu and all other Congo political leaders except Soviet-backed Antoine Gizenga to junk the unwelcome federal government plan left by Belgium and replace it with a confederation of semi-independent states.

Some observers expected Gromyko would pick up Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah's argument that Kasavubu, in accepting the presidency of the proposed confederation, had quit the presidency of the republic and had lost his right to U.N. recognition as the Congo's chief of state.

Hammarskjöld was reported to have asked Rajeshwar Dayal of India to continue as head of the U.N. operation in the Congo despite the Kasavubu government's repeated demands for his recall.
Kasavubu accused Dayal of bias toward the late Patrice Lumumba and toward Gizenga after Lumumba's death.

New York Herald Tribune correspondent Marguerite Higgins reported from Leopoldville Sunday that, according to high sources, Hammarskjöld is continuing Day-al in the Congo post because the secretary-general "fears to offend Dayal's countryman and boss,
Prime Minister Nehru of India."

Hammarskjöld was said to have Ceylon's promise of 800 to 1,000 troops for the U.N. force in the Congo, which, with the combat battalion now being sent by India, would build the depleted force to a strength of more than 20,000 men. The secretary-general hopes to increase the force to a total of 25,000 troops.

Hammarskjöld also scheduled a meeting today with his advisory Congo committee to choose a commission of jurists to investigate

JFK to Submit a Balanced Budget

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is reported ready to submit a balanced budget to Congress soon—and then supplement it with a request for at least $1 billion in deficit defense spending.

Congressional leaders have been informed that the President hopes by making separate recommendations for defense spending increases to drive two points home to the country:

1. That he is making every effort to keep the nation on a pay-as-you-go basis.

2. That the reason he is unable to do so at this point lies in the need for a stepped-up defense effort to which he pointed in the presidential campaign.

Kennedy apparently plans few over-all changes in the $80.9-billion budget that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent to Congress in January for the fiscal year beginning July 1. Savings Kennedy's experts have been able to calculate in some areas may be offset by increases in others.

Eisenhower estimated a $1.5-billion surplus. But this was based on an $82.3-billion income that Kennedy's advisers don't believe will be reached. Eisenhower also banked on postal rate increases and hikes in some taxes that Congress may not grant.

Eisenhower estimated defense outlays at $42.9 billion—up $1.4 billion from the current fiscal year. If Kennedy can offer a balanced budget which retains that figure, he is said to feel the country will go along with a supplemental request for a billion more in military funds.

Some of this outlay would be channeled into missile development, with stress on the reliability and protection of long-range missiles.

Congress members have been told the new defense setup would add 55,000 men to the Army to bring its manpower to 925,000 and boost the Marine Corps from 175, 000 to 200,000. These increases, with some modernization of weap-

U.S. limited-war capacities.

Plane Crash

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — A single-engine plane crashed in floodwaters of the Black River near here Monday, killing all three persons aboard.

State Police said an attempt would be made today to recover the bodies and the fuselage of the plane from 12 feet of water.

The dead were identified by State Police as M.R. Hollister, manager of the Grand Prairie, Tex., airport, and his wife, Edyth,
both of Fort Worth, and Al W.
Dart of Grand Prairie. Their ages were not known immediately.

They were en route from Grand Prairie to Louisville, Ky., when the plane went down in this north central Arkansas area, about 20 miles north of Newport. Cause of the crash was not known.

Apparently no one saw the crash. Charles Osborne of nearby Cord, Ark., found the plane's tail assembly near a road joining Cord and Elgin Ferry, on the Black River. He notified police and a search plane spotted the submerged fuselage.

A rescue party finally got to the scene late Monday and located the bodies in the water, but could not recover them before nightfall.

The plane was a Bellanca, piloted by Hollister, the Federal Aviation Agency said.

State Police Lt. W.D. Walke said wreckage was scattered over a four-mile area.

Recovery efforts were considered risky because of the swift current condition of the river.

The ferry near which the plane crashed has suspended operation because of flooding condition. The plane crashed in an area near the river which is not usually under water.

Episcopal Bishops
Criticize Hoover

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— Bishop of the Episcopal Church have issued a statement condemning capital punishment and criticizing FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for his support of it.

The Very Rev. Charles A. Higgins, dean of Trinity Episcopal Cathedral here, said an eight-man Arkansas delegation voted at a 1958 meeting against adoption of a resolution which led eventually to the statement, issued Sunday at New York.

Each delegation voted as a unit and Dean Higgins said he thought the Arkansas view was not unanimous.

UNIQUE in size, in convenience, in quality, Lincoln Continental is trimmed in length by 14 inches, yet it retains an expansive interior that seats six most comfortably. It is the only car with center-opening doors. That includes the convertible—America's only 4-door convertible. Each car must pass a 12-mile road test before it leaves the factory—each engine is run at least three hours under laboratory supervision. In addition, Lincoln Continental has a warranty far surpassing that of any other American car. Get the details here soon.

DOROTHY DIX
Are the Odds For or Against Repeats in Marriage?

—DOROTHY DIX COLUMN—

—RELE. TUES. MAR. 21 L.D.—

—ARE THE ODDS FOR, ETC.—

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

What are the chances of happiness for a couple who divorce and remarry? My readers are divided on the question. "Worried Husband" who married the same woman a second time, finds she still wears the pants. "I've never been the man of the house," he wailed. "My wife curses me even though I do most of the work at home. It's hell. I'm at the end of my rope."

I advised him to either take charge or get out.

"Happy Wife" thinks my answer to "Worried Husband" unjustified. "These two are in love else they never would have remarried," she writes. "Given time they will work it out. I was married at 16, divorced at 21 and remarried—to the same man—at 23. To be happy in marriage, one must give more than he gets. Once you do, things level off and you both find happiness. 'Worried Husband' should stick it out."

I still can't agree. "To stick it out" is not the answer to "Worried Husband's" problem. A wife such as his must be dealt with firmly. His mistake lies in tolerating the same conditions which doubtless precipitated the original break.

The experience of "Happy Wife" is very different. At 23 she is evidently mature enough to grasp what she failed to do at 16—that marriage is indeed "give and take" with emphasis more on the giving than the taking. To marry the same man or woman a second time, unless you are willing and eager to do so, is to find divorce a revolving door.

Dear Helen:

I am 10 and get good grades but all the kids call me "teacher's pet" just because teacher lets me read to the class every day. The other day a girl said my hair was messy. Another said I acted smart. Then they all followed me when I tried to get away and made me cry. When I was in second grade and got poor marks, I had a lot of friends. Now I'm in third grade, get better marks and have no friends. Should I quit trying for high marks and keep my friends? I'm sensitive. Help me. —Desperate

Dear Desperate: 'Twas ever thus for old and young. Once you raise your head above the crowd, old human nature starts sniping. Don't you let that pack of young coyotes drag you down. Go on for high marks. Be satisfied with nothing short of the best at school and in life. Once you really succeed and you surely will if you set your sights high, this same crowd will boast that they once knew you.

Dear Helen:

motion pictures of 1960 — five pictures are nominated for each category of excellence.

One of the surprises of this year's nominations is the fact that the Jerry Wald production "Sons of Lovers" received nominations in seven different classifications — more than any other film made last year except one, "The Apartment."

"Sons of Lovers" is one of the five pictures nominated as best picture of the year.

It also received nominations for "Best actor of the year" in a starring role, Trevor Howard; best direction of the year; best screen play, best black and white photography and best art direction.

The Saenger in Hope is fortunate in being able to show one of the top award nominees before the awards will be made in April — and when you attend the show Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Saenger you can decide whether you are seeing the film that may win the coveted Oscar.

It is pointed out by the Saenger management that this picture is suited for adults only, due to the theme of the famous story by D. H. Lawrence.

HOW TO TELL A DODGE FROM A DODGE
Identifying a Dodge has become a problem. Because now there are two. Compact Dodge Lancer. Full-size Dodge Dart. There is an obvious difference. Size, inside and out. Dart, the lower picture, is the larger. But otherwise they are very much alike. Both have a unitized, rust-proofed body. A superb ride called Torsion-Aire. A battery-saving alternator. And both have optional three-speed push-button automatic transmissions. Another difference is price. Dart, the full-size Dodge, is priced model for model with Ford and Chevrolet. The compact Dodge Lancer costs about the same as Comet, Falcon and Corvair. Get to know them better. At your Dodge Dealer's, of course.

In launching the new Congo debate, Gromyko was expected to attack the decision of Congo President Joseph Kasavubu and other anti-Communist Congolese leaders to abolish the federal government in favor of a confederation of semi-independent states.

The Soviet Union already has assailed the plan as a plot by Belgium to dismember the Congo and preserve Belgium's colonial control.

Delegates feared a bitter Congo debate, rehearsing all the old charges and counter charges. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld set the tone for a long and stormy session.

Secretary - General Dag Hammarskjöld sent the Security Council word that his Congo advisory committee had recommended setting up a four-nation commission of jurists to make an on-the-spot investigation into the death of Patrice Lumumba, the deposed Congo premier.

A group of 39 Asian and African nations put in a request that the assembly take up the situation in the Portuguese West African territory of Angola, where pro-independence rioting was followed by tribal massacres of white settlers in North Angola last week.

Despite Portuguese opposition, the steering committee is virtually certain to approve assembly debate on Angola.

Jailbreakers Are Recaptured

MONROE, La. (AP)—Two Negro teen-agers who broke out of jail in Hamburg, Ark., and were caught here when they crashed a stolen truck into a store are being held for further action.

Bobby Mitchell, 17, of Crossett, Ark., and Henry Kilpatrick Jr., 16, of Monroe, fled the Hamburg jail Saturday by breaking the lock on a wooden door while helping paint the inside of the jail.

Officers said the pair stole a truck and drove to Monroe, broke into two business houses, then smashed the truck into a variety store where police caught them.

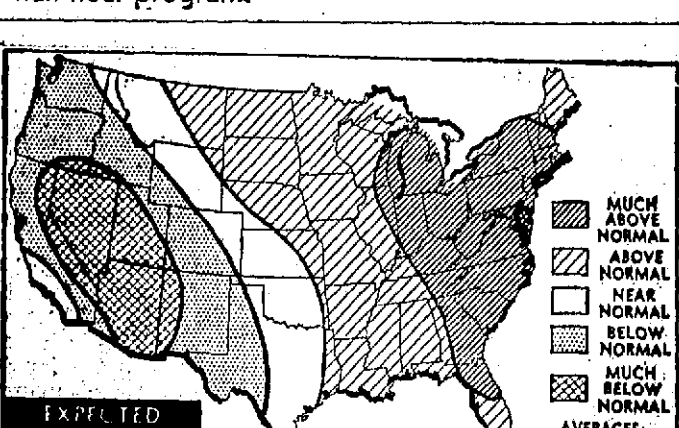

Mitchell was held on charges of burglary, gun theft, and as a fugitive. No charges were placed against Kilpatrick as a juvenile.

Kilpatrick escaped from the Ouachita Parish Juvenile Detention home at Monroe March 14.

NIGHT MARSHAL

By L. P. Holmes

THE STORY: Many years have passed since Frank Scobie was a real night marshal. Now he is "owned" by dive keepers in Midas Hill. He has tried to fire Chris Waddell, his night marshal, who refuses to be fired and who is trying to clean up the town. Among Chris's friends is Barney Guilfoyle, a wagon freighter, with whom Chris rode to Midas Hill when he first arrived.

CHAPTER XIV Waddell left Scobie and went along clear to the lower end of Summit and at that far edge of town came upon the freight corrals and yards. And there saw Barney Guilfoyle, sitting on the tongue of his big lead freight wagon, working over a set of harness. As Waddell approached, Barney looked up.

"Hal! Been thinkin' about you. Not quite knowin' how to figger you."

"Don't try, Barney," Waddell said. "You might guess wrong. Just take me as I am. And let me sit here along side of you and soak up some sunshine."

"Help yourself," grunted Barney. Barney worked a lump of beeswax up and down a length of heavy black harness thread.

"Yes sir," he went on, as though ruminating aloud to himself, "things hereabouts must agree with you. For any time a man does a good job of knocking down the ears of such as Breed Garvey, then he sure is feelin' frisky."

Waddell shrugged again. "Case of have to, Barney. Garvey was all set to lay hands on me and throw me out of his place. And I couldn't allow that, could I?" Barney chuckled.

"You know, Barney—if I stay long enough, one of these days I'm liable to go back to the first trade I know, punching cattle."

Barney tipped him a shrewd glance. "Some sick of humans, maybe? You got to be around Frank Scobie."

"There's reason to feel sorry for Frank in some ways. But not for them who've made him what he is."

Barney shook his head. "A man is just what he makes himself, no more—no less. Not that I ain't saying he's been mixin' with real good citizens, understand. And speakin' of shady citizens—have a look!"

"I see them," Waddell's tone thinned out and a quick bleakness narrowed his eyes. "The Spooner brothers, I believe. I've only seen them once before, but they're the kind you don't forget right away."

What, I wonder, would they be wanting at this end of town?" "I might make one guess what

Charges AMA Is Misleading People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff says doctors are "misleading the American people" when they label the administration health care for the aged plan a "socialized medicine."

Doctors are in no way involved in the proposal to provide care for the elderly through social security, Ribicoff said Sunday in a televised interview (ABC-Issues and Answers).

Ribicoff said the American Medical Association seeks to spread the impression that doctors would be controlled.

And he said many individual physicians are afraid to support the program because the AMA "exercises very strong sanction against individual doctors who speak up their mind."

They came steadily on, three dark, narrow faced men. Barney had an old hickory single-tree balanced across his knees, using it as a base to drive his awl against. Now he laid it across the wagon tongue, handy to Waddell's reach.

"They jump you, take this to 'em."

Watching the Spooners carefully, Waddell nodded his thanks. The Spooners came to a lounging halt. Their gaze was as insolent as their approach. One of them said: "I guess you didn't hear?"

"Am I," Waddell drawled, "supposed to say—hear what?" Anger touched Elvie Spooner's face. "Smart one, eh? Ever hear about another smart one, named Belsen?"

"I'm not Belsen. You can go tell Hogan Geor that."

Speaking, Chris Waddell slid his right hand inside his partially buttoned jumper. The move was casual, apparently with no particular purpose or design, but Elvie Spooner marked it and a hard, narrow speculation tightened his face.

"That kind, eh?" he said, the words thin, grudging. "I don't know just what you mean by that kind," Waddell replied.

Leo Spooner spoke, but meagerly. "Shut up, Buff! Elvie's doin' the talkin'."

"You've been told," said Elvie. Which seemed to leave Elvie with nothing more to offer. He swung away and Lee and Buff followed him.

Waddell watched them go, and presently gave a short, mirthless laugh. "Well, well, The Spooner boys. The terrors of Ute Street."

Hitters Smash Fences in the Training Games

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way the hitters are smashing the ball off, and over, the fences in Florida and Arizona, the name of the game could be rickety instead of baseball.

The carnage continued unabated Monday with the St. Louis Cardinals inflicting the worst damage by pounding Cincinnati pitchers for 19 hits, including seven doubles and a triple in a 14-5 exhibition victory over the Reds.

The Cleveland Indians, who rocked San Francisco hurlers for 18 hits Sunday, continued their assault on the Giants' shell-shocked staff with a 3-homer, 14-hit attack for a 12-5 triumph.

Elsewhere, it was the same story. Twenty-seven hits were sprayed around the field as the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Dodgers in an 11-8 slugfest, and another 27 caromed off booming bats as the Boston Red Sox outlasted the Los Angeles Angels 8-7.

Baltimore settled for nine hits in a come-from-behind 7-6 triumph over the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, while in a night game the Kansas City A's edged the Washington Senators 4-3 on Jerry Lumpe's two-run double in the ninth inning.

Bill White led the Cardinals with four hits, two of them doubles, and Stan Musial contributed a single, double and triple against Cincinnati pitching hopefuls Ray Rippelmeyer, Dave Stenhouse and Zach Monroe. Vada Pinson had a single and two triples for the Reds.

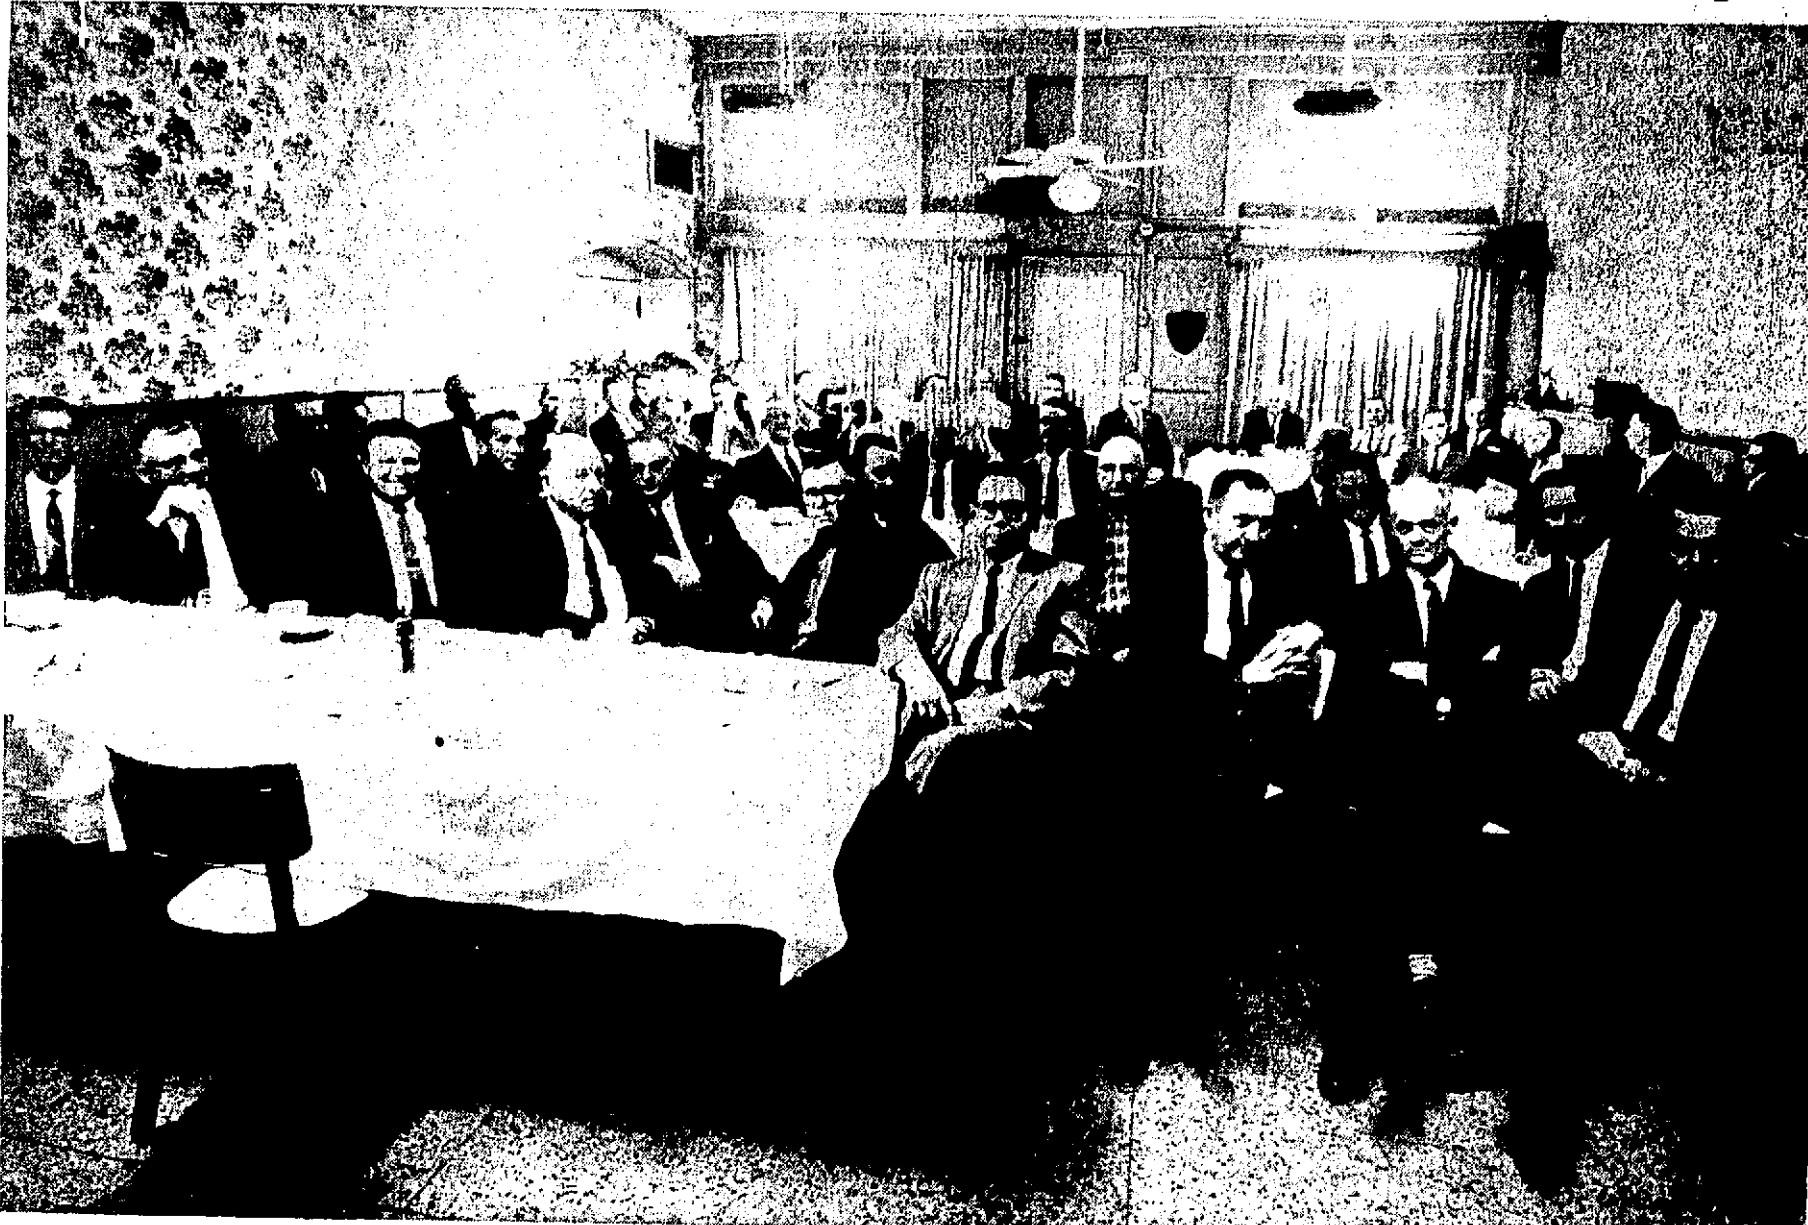

Cleveland right-hander Jim Perry pitched scoreless, four-hit ball in a six-inning stint against the Giants. Woodie Held led the homering triumvirate with a three-run shot while Tito Francona and Hal Jones added two-run clouts.

The Yankees put together a four run outburst in the sixth and came up with six in the seventh to hold off the Dodgers, who got a homer and triple from Willie Davis and four RBI performance by Wally Moon. Mickey Mantle had a homer and double for New York.

Vic Wertz, with 3-for-4, powered the Red Sox. Wertz' run-producing single in the ninth chased the winning run across after his three run homer had kept Boston in contention. Gene Leek had a homer, double and single for the Angels.

Chuck Essegian's two-run homer in the fifth and a three-run homer by Ron Samford in the sixth brought the Orioles, trailing

Tigers May Not Be Able to Advance

By DAVE DILES
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers may be shaking their "fat cats" reputation, but their new business-like approach to baseball may not be enough to lift them out of sixth place.

For Manager Bob Scheffing, the 1961 season will be one of trial, and he hopes, not too many errors. Veterans call this training camp the best organized and most spirited in years. But the former Chicago Cubs manager needs more than an improved attitude to pump new life into the Tigers.

For years the Tigers have been rapped as the most contended group of second division player in baseball.

Scheffing is forced to attempt the latest rejuvenation with untried rookies. There are 20 players on the 36-man roster who were not listed on the Spring roster of 1960.

A winter trade brought center fielder Bill Bruton and Scheffing has moved Al Kaline back to his old right field spot and put slugger Rocky Colavito in left.

The manager came to camp with two major problems — his infield and the catching.

Dick Brown is the number one catcher. At 26, he is trying for a regular job with his third team. The manager says his infield "could be our most pleasant surprise or our biggest disappointment." The key figures are third baseman Steve Boros and second baseman Jake Wood, who have only seven years of minor league apprenticeship between them.

The best-competition in camp is at first base where Larry Osborne, the American Association's triple-crown winner of 1960, is trying to unseat Norm Cash, who was the best hitter among Tiger regulars last year.

Pitching has been Detroit's strong suit in recent seasons and the Tigers have younger and stronger arms for second line pitching. Jim Bunning, Frank Lary, and Don Mossi form the nucleus for the staff.

Early outlook on the Tigers: pitching good, hitting fair, fielding adequate, bench stronger — with the chances for moving up from sixth place depending almost entirely on the performances the team gets from its young infield.

6-0, within range of the Pirates. Baltimore then won it with two in the ninth on Essegian's double, singles by Jerry Adair and Whitey Herzog, and an error.

Lumpe's game-winning double for Kansas City came with two out and the bases loaded off Washington reliever Marty Kutyna. The Athletics entered the bottom of the ninth trailing 3-2 when Ray Semproch filled the bases on three walks. Bud Daley, Johnny Kucks and Don Larsen worked for the A's, who won their seventh game in nine starts.

Pro Cage Play to Have New Look in Fall

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Professional basketball will have a new look in the American Basketball League, which starts operations in the fall.

That's the word of acting Commissioner Abe Saperstein, who has learned over the years as owner of the independent Harlem Globetrotters how to give the fans what they want to see.

"There are going to be rule changes, a premium placed on the smaller player and a better balance between offense and defense," Saperstein said in an interview.

"We plan to paint an area 25 feet in front of the baskets and a field goal from behind it will be worth three points. This should be as interesting as a home run in baseball. It will get the good, little man in position to shoot and the fans will see the ball going through the air and swishing through the hoop."

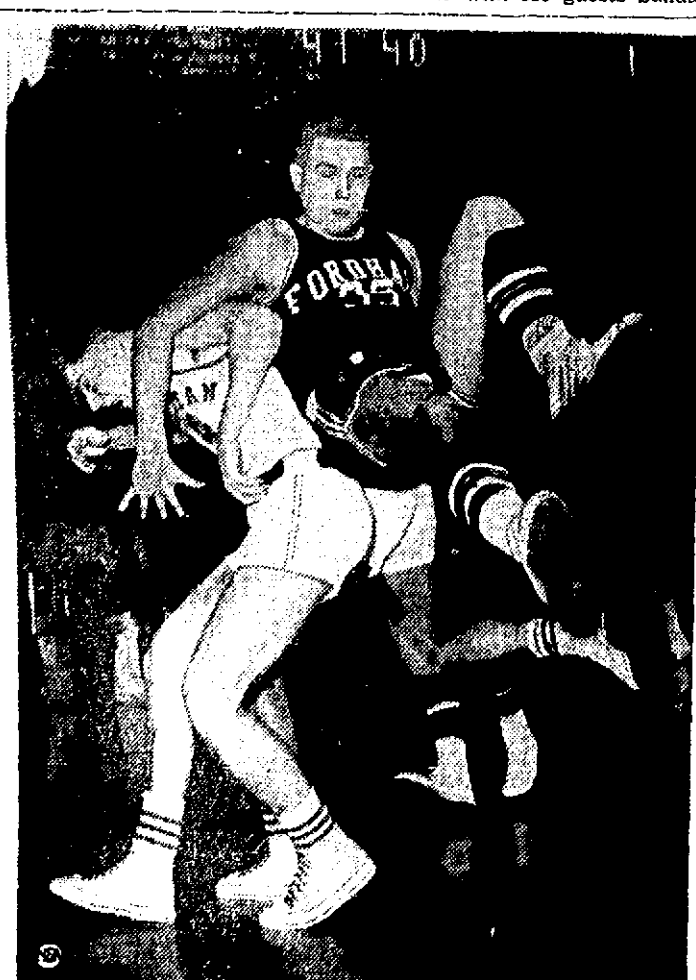

Saperstein also is for widening the keyhole along the base line to 18 feet, the Olympic distance, to keep the big man away from the basket.

"We also intend to legalize contact," Saperstein continued. "I don't mean we'll be playing a football type of game. But there will be addition of some body contact—be what it may—to aid the defense and keep the score down to a respectable level. A player will be able to protect himself like a football lineman is able to do."

"If a little man can't touch a big man, how is he going to guard him? We want some 5-9 and 5-10 players with a lot of flash. These kind of players thrill college fans with their speed, skill and finesse but when they graduate the pros won't even look at them."

He is Joseph T. Drmacic, 43, a traffic violation bureau clerk since 1950.

Group to Survey Fatal Disease

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A group of parents will make a survey of Arkansas to determine how many children in the state suffer from cystic fibrosis, an often-fatal disease in which lungs and pancreas are clogged by a thick, sticky substance.

The survey will help in furthering research and in getting public funds to fight the disease, sponsors said. The exact cause of the disease isn't known.

The census was decided on Sunday at a meeting here of the Arkansas Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation. Most members are parents of children suffering from the disease.

Hawks Open Defense in Pro League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks, inactive the past 10 days, are raring to go as they open their National Basketball Association Western Division best-of-7 final playoffs against the Los Angeles Lakers at home tonight.

The Hawks have been taking it easy while the Lakers were extended to five games before eliminating the Detroit Pistons in a semifinal series.

The second game of the Eastern Division finals also is on tap tonight with the Boston Celtics meeting the Nationals in Syracuse. The Celtics won the opener in Boston Sunday, 128-115. The Nats reached the finals with a three-game sweep of the Philadelphia Warriors.

St. Louis coach Paul Seymour isn't afraid the Hawks will be rusty from their long layoff. "We needed the rest," he said. "Several players were run down but now the entire club is in good shape."

Last season the Hawks defeated the Lakers, who were then representing Minneapolis, 43 in the playoffs. Two years ago the Lakers won the series from St. Louis 4-2.

The second game of the series will be played in St. Louis Wednesday night.

Boston is aiming for its fourth NBA championship in five seasons. The Celtics defeated St. Louis in seven games for the title last year.

The third game in the Eastern finals will take place Thursday night in Boston.

Quarterfinals Tonight in NIT Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — The long and short of the National Invitation Tournament meet in one of the quarter-finals in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Dayton, five times a finalist and never a winner, has the tallest team in the tourney. The Flyers play Temple's Tiny Tims in the opener of the doubleheader.

In the second game, Niagara—the only other seeded team left besides Dayton—goes against Providence. The winners go into the semi-finals on Thursday. The final is scheduled for Saturday.

"I know all about these little guys," said Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn, referring to Temple. "They are not easy to beat. In fact, the little teams have been dominating this tournament."

Temple's Coach Harry Litwack shudders when he thinks of Dayton's figures—a 10-7 regular season record and over 90 points five times.

"The big men have been killing us all season," moaned Litwack. "In fact, we've made them look like All-Americans."

The Niagara-Providence game will be a replay of an earlier season game between the two teams. Providence won that one 76-74 in double overtime when Jim Hadnot made good on a 1-and-1 foul with four seconds to go.

Niagara Coach Taps Gallagher, who is leading his club into the NIT for the eighth time—also without a championship—is worried that Joe Maddrey, his 6-4 corner man, will be out. Maddrey has a 16-2 scoring average. He has a twisted knee and an injured shoulder.

Niagara plays strictly a man-to-man defense, but Friar Coach Joe Mullaney calls his defense a "Chinese man-to-man."

"It's basically a zone," sniffed Gallagher. "I talk only one language, English."
